Practical Information

Best Time to Visit

October to February is the ideal period with pleasant weather, lower humidity, and comfortable temperatures (15-28°C). This season aligns with major festivals including Durga Puja (September-October) and Kolkata Book Fair (January-February). March to May experiences high temperatures (28-38°C) and is less comfortable for sightseeing. June to September brings monsoon rains, making outdoor activities challenging but offering lush green landscapes.

Peak Tourist Season: October-November sees maximum visitors when weather is optimal and festivals occur. Book accommodations in advance during this period.

Getting Around Kolkata

- Metro Rail: Efficient, air-conditioned system covering major tourist spots. Tokens or smart cards available at stations. Metro hours vary by line and day; check the current timetable before travelling.
- Buses: Extensive public bus network covering entire city. Board from designated bus stops. Air-conditioned and non-AC options available.
- Yellow Taxis: Metered taxis available throughout city. Negotiate fare in advance if meter unavailable. Can arrange through hotels.
- Auto-rickshaws: Three-wheeled vehicles for short distances. Metered or negotiable fares. Common in residential areas.
- Cycle-rickshaws: Traditional transport in older parts of city. Scenic but slower option for short distances.
- Rental Cabs: Apps and agencies offer self-drive or chauffeur options. Useful for multi-day city tours.
- Ferries: River ferries across Hooghly River connecting Kolkata and Howrah. Economical and scenic option.

➔ Airport Transfer

Netaji Subhas Chandra Bose International Airport (CCU) to city center:

- Prepaid Taxi: Government-booth taxi to central Kolkata in about 45 minutes, roughly ₹400-500
- WBTC AC Volvo Bus: Airport bus to Esplanade or Howrah in 60-90 minutes depending on traffic, around ₹40-60
- App Cab (Ola/Uber): Door-to-door ride to city center in 40-60 minutes, typically ₹350-600
- Private Transfer: Pre-booked car with driver to your hotel in 45 minutes, at a fixed rate to confirm

Shopping & Souvenirs

Must-Buy Items:

- Sarees: Bengal cotton sarees, Baluchari sarees with intricate designs
- Handicrafts: Terracotta items from Kumartuli, hand-painted Kalighat paintings
- Darjeeling Tea: Premium tea varieties with authentic packaging
- Rajsthani Textiles: Colorful fabrics and wall hangings
- Artisan Products: Brass items, wooden furniture, bamboo crafts
- Jewelry: Traditional Bengali ornaments and contemporary designs

Shopping Areas:

- New Market: Traditional shopping hub with clothing, accessories, household items
- Rabindra Sarani: Street shopping for textiles, fabrics, and traditional wear
- South City & Acropolis: Modern malls with international and Indian brands
- Dharmatala Street: Electronics and gadgets
- Kumartuli: Authentic artisan clay handicrafts

Bargaining Tips: Bargaining is normal at street markets and traditional shops. Expect to negotiate 20-30% off initial prices. Fixed pricing at malls and branded stores.

Annual Events & Festivals

- Durga Puja (September-October): Most important festival featuring elaborate pandals, cultural programs, and religious celebrations across the city. Transforms Kolkata into festival hub.
- Kolkata Book Fair (January-February): Asia's largest book fair attracting publishers, authors, and readers. The 2026 fair was held at Central Park Mela Ground, Salt Lake, from 22 January to 3 February. The 2026 fair ran for 13 days.
- Kali Puja (November): Sacred festival at Kalighat Temple with processions and rituals honoring Goddess Kali.
- Rabindra Jayanti (May): Celebration of poet Rabindranath Tagore's birth with cultural programs, exhibitions, and seminars.
- Poila Boishakh (April): Bengali New Year celebrated with processions, music, and cultural events at Rabindra Sarovar.
- Holi (March): Festival of colors celebrated enthusiastically with family gatherings and street festivities.

Electrical Information

Voltage & Frequency: India uses 230V, 50Hz electrical supply. Significantly different from US 110V/60Hz and European 220V/50Hz systems.

Plug Types: India primarily uses Type D plugs (three round pins in triangular arrangement). Also common are Type A (two flat pins), Type F (round pins with side grounding clips), and Type M (three thick round pins).

Adapters & Converters: International visitors should carry universal power adapters compatible with Type D plugs. Most Indian hotels provide adapters at reception. Electronic devices with dual voltage capability (check labeling) only need adapters. Non-dual voltage devices require voltage converters (heavy and not recommended).

Power Supply: Generally reliable in tourist areas and modern hotels. Occasional power cuts possible, especially monsoon season. Hotels usually have backup generators. Carry portable chargers for continuous device availability.

Must-Try Bengali Cuisine & Dining

Iconic Dishes:

- Luchi-Alur Dom: Puffed fried bread served with spiced potato curry. Breakfast staple available at local eateries.
- Fish Curry (Maacher Jhol): Spiced fish cooked in turmeric and ginger broth. Bengali specialty available at restaurants and street vendors.
- Rasgulla: Soft cheese balls in sugar syrup. Iconic Bengali sweet, must-try dessert or snack.
- Sandesh: Traditional milk-based sweet with various flavors. Available at sweet shops throughout the city.
- Chingri Malai Curry: Prawns in coconut milk gravy. Specialty at upscale Bengali restaurants.

- Shorshe Ilish: Hilsa fish in mustard sauce. Seasonal delicacy when hilsa season arrives.
- Jhal Muri: Spiced puffed rice snack. Street food available throughout city.

Dining Spots:

- Park Street: Diverse restaurants from Chinese to Italian to modern Indian cuisine.
- AJC Bose Road: Upscale dining establishments and fine-dining Bengali restaurants.
- Street Food Areas: Chowringhee and Maidan areas for authentic street eating experiences.
- Traditional Eateries: Family-run establishments serving authentic Bengali meals at reasonable prices.

Dining Tips: Bengali meal sequence: rice/bread, fish curry, vegetables, lentils. Many restaurants close afternoon hours (2-6 PM). Street food vendors offer authentic experiences but choose busy stalls with high turnover.
