Things to do in Belgrade

Landmarks & Monuments

Belgrade's landmarks tell the story of a city that has been destroyed and rebuilt over 40 times. From ancient fortresses to communist-era monuments, each structure reveals a chapter of this resilient city's fascinating history.

Must See

Belgrade Fortress (Kalemegdan)

2-3 hours No Booking Needed

Map

The crown jewel of Belgrade, this ancient fortress sits majestically at the confluence of the Sava and Danube rivers. The first Roman military camp on the ridge dates to around 6–11 CE; settlement in the area goes back to prehistoric times, Kalemegdan has witnessed Celtic, Roman, Byzantine, Ottoman, and Austrian rule. Explore the Upper and Lower Town, walk along medieval walls, and discover hidden tunnels. The fortress offers breathtaking panoramic views of the rivers and modern Belgrade. Inside, you'll find military museums, Roman wells, and the iconic Victor Monument overlooking the confluence.

Top Pick

Victor Monument

30 minutes No Booking Needed

Map

This iconic bronze statue of a victorious warrior stands atop Kalemegdan Fortress, created by renowned Croatian sculptor Ivan Meštrović. Erected in 1928, it commemorates Serbia's victories in the Balkan Wars and World War I. The 15-meter tall monument depicts a nude male figure holding a falcon and sword, symbolizing freedom and victory. It has become Belgrade's most recognizable symbol and offers the perfect backdrop for photographs with the river confluence behind.

Notable

Avala Tower

1.5-2 hours (including travel) No Booking Needed

Map

Standing 205 meters tall on Mount Avala, this telecommunications tower is a symbol of Serbian resilience. The original tower was destroyed during NATO bombing in 1999 and reconstructed in 2010. Take the elevator to the observation deck at 122 meters for spectacular 360-degree views of Belgrade and surrounding countryside. The tower's unique design and the surrounding memorial park make it a must-visit. On clear days, you can see up to 100 kilometers away.

Tips for Landmarks & Monuments

- Best time to visit Kalemegdan: Early morning or sunset for magical lighting and fewer crowds
- Wear comfortable shoes - the fortress grounds are extensive with cobblestone paths
- Bring a camera - countless photo opportunities at every turn

Museums & Galleries

Belgrade's museum scene reflects its complex history and rich cultural heritage. From world-class collections of Yugoslav and Serbian art to unique museums dedicated to nikola Tesla and aviation, the city offers diverse cultural experiences for every interest.

Nikola Tesla Museum

1.5-2 hours Book Ahead

Map

The world's only museum dedicated to the life and work of Nikola Tesla, one of history's greatest inventors. Housing Tesla's original personal belongings, documents, and inventions, including his ashes in a golden sphere. Interactive demonstrations bring his work to life - watch electricity arc through the air in the famous Tesla coil demonstration. The museum contains over 160,000 original documents, 2,000 books, 1,200 historical technical exhibits, and 1,500 photographs. An absolute must for science enthusiasts and anyone interested in the man who lit up the world.

Must See

National Museum of Serbia

2-3 hours No Booking Needed

Map

After a 15-year renovation, this magnificent museum reopened in 2018 with over 400,000 works of art. The collection spans from prehistoric times to modern art, featuring masterpieces by Picasso, Matisse, Rembrandt, and Monet alongside exceptional Serbian medieval frescoes. Highlights include the Miroslav Gospel from 1186, ancient Roman sculptures, and one of the finest collections of Serbian icons. The building itself, dating from 1903, is an architectural gem in the heart of Belgrade.

Top Pick

Museum of Yugoslav History

1.5-2 hours No Booking Needed

Map

Explore Yugoslavia's complex 20th-century story through three interconnected buildings. The House of Flowers, Tito's mausoleum, is the main attraction where the former Yugoslav leader rests. The museum houses an incredible collection of gifts given to Tito from world leaders, including items from Elizabeth Taylor, Yuri Gagarin, and countless heads of state. The May 25 Museum showcases relay batons from Youth Day celebrations. A fascinating journey through Cold War history and the life of one of the 20th century's most intriguing political figures.

Notable

Museum of Contemporary Art

Map

Perched on the banks of the Danube in New Belgrade, this brutalist masterpiece houses over 35,000 works of modern and contemporary art from former Yugoslavia and beyond. The collection spans from 1900 to present, featuring works by Marina Abramović, Picasso, and Kandinsky. The building itself, designed by architects Ivan Antić and Ivanka Raspopović, is a stunning example of 1960s architecture with its geometric forms and integration with the surrounding landscape.

Notable

Ethnographic Museum

1-1.5 hours No Booking Needed

Map

Housed in a beautiful 1934 building, this museum preserves Serbian folk culture and traditions. Explore extensive collections of traditional costumes, textiles, jewelry, and household items from various regions of Serbia and the Balkans. The museum offers insights into rural life, folk rituals, and crafts spanning several centuries. Special exhibitions often feature contemporary interpretations of traditional arts. The costume collection alone contains over 7,000 items, representing one of the finest folk art collections in Southeast Europe.

Tips for Museums & Galleries

- Museum pass tip: Check if a multi-museum pass is available for cost savings
- Most museums are closed on Mondays - plan accordingly
- Individual visitors do not need to book; reservations are required for groups larger than 10. Guided tours start hourly.
- Many museums offer free admission on specific days - check their websites
- Photography policies vary - always ask before taking photos

Religious Sites

Belgrade's religious architecture reflects centuries of diverse spiritual traditions. From Orthodox churches with stunning frescoes to mosques and synagogues, these sacred spaces showcase the city's multicultural heritage and artistic achievements.

Must See

Saint Sava Temple

1 hour No Booking Needed

Map

One of the largest Orthodox churches in the world, this breathtaking white marble structure dominates Belgrade's skyline. Built on the site where the Ottomans burned the relics of Saint Sava in 1594, the temple combines Serbian-Byzantine architecture with modern construction. The interior decoration, completed in 2020, features stunning mosaics covering 15,000 square meters, including the world's largest mosaic of Christ Pantocrator in the main dome. The church can accommodate 10,000 people and stands 82 meters tall. A symbol of Serbian faith and resilience.

Notable

St. Mark's Church

30-45 minutes No Booking Needed

Map

This striking Serbian-Byzantine church, completed in 1940, is modeled after the Gračanica Monastery in Kosovo. Its distinctive red and white striped facade and five domes make it instantly recognizable. The interior houses the tomb of Emperor Stefan Dušan and a rich collection of icons. The church's treasury contains priceless religious artifacts and manuscripts. Located in Tašmajdan Park, it stands as a beautiful example of interwar Serbian religious architecture.

Notable

Belgrade Cathedral (Saborna Crkva)

30-45 minutes No Booking Needed

Map

The principal Orthodox church of Belgrade, dating from 1841, sits in the heart of the old city. This elegant white church combines baroque and classical architectural elements. Inside, you'll find ornate iconostasis and frescoes, plus the tombs of Serbian royalty and church leaders. The cathedral played a crucial role in Serbian religious and cultural life during Ottoman rule. Its bell tower offers excellent views of the old town.

Optional

Bajrakli Mosque

20-30 minutes No Booking Needed

Map

The only surviving mosque from the Ottoman period in Belgrade, originally built in the 16th century. Its name means 'mosque with a flag' as the Ottoman flag once flew from its minaret. Destroyed and rebuilt several times, the current structure dates from 1868. The mosque features traditional Ottoman architecture with a single minaret and serves Belgrade's small Muslim community. The peaceful courtyard provides a tranquil escape from the busy city streets.

Tips for Religious Sites

- Dress code: Modest clothing required - cover shoulders and knees
- Visit early morning or late afternoon for quieter, more contemplative experiences
- Saint Sava Temple offers free guided tours - check schedule at entrance

- Photography allowed but be respectful during services
- Remove hats when entering churches

Squares & Streets

Belgrade's squares and pedestrian streets are the beating heart of the city, where locals gather, history unfolds, and urban life thrives. These public spaces blend architectural heritage with contemporary café culture.

Must See

Knez Mihailova Street

1-2 hours No Booking Needed

Map

Belgrade's main pedestrian boulevard and the heart of city life. This elegant street stretches from Republic Square to Kalemegdan Fortress, lined with 19th-century buildings housing international brands, local boutiques, street performers, and numerous cafés. As a protected cultural monument, the architecture showcases various styles from classicism to modernism. Always buzzing with energy, it's the perfect place for people-watching, shopping, and soaking in Belgrade's vibrant atmosphere. Street musicians and artists add to the lively ambiance.

Must See

Republic Square (Trg Republike)

Map

The central square of Belgrade and the city's most popular meeting point. Dominated by the National Museum and National Theatre, the square features the iconic equestrian statue of Prince Mihailo Obrenović III. After recent renovations, it's become a modern public space while preserving historical character. The phrase 'kod konja' (at the horse) referring to the statue is the most famous meeting point in Belgrade. The square hosts cultural events, celebrations, and is the starting point for exploring the city.

Top Pick

Skadarlija

2-3 hours (with dinner) No Booking Needed

Map

Belgrade's bohemian quarter, often called the 'Montmartre of Belgrade.' This charming cobblestone street is lined with traditional restaurants (kafanas), art galleries, and antique shops. Dating from the late 19th century, it was once home to poets, writers, and artists. Today, authentic Serbian cuisine is served to the sounds of live traditional music. The vintage street lamps and bohemian atmosphere create a romantic, nostalgic ambiance. Perfect for dinner and experiencing traditional Serbian hospitality and culture.

Optional

Slavija Square

15-20 minutes No Booking Needed

Map

One of Belgrade's largest and busiest roundabouts, featuring a monumental fountain at its center. The square connects several major streets and is surrounded by important buildings including hotels and shopping centers. The circular traffic pattern can be chaotic but fascinating to watch. The fountain, with its choreographed water displays, is particularly beautiful when illuminated at night. A symbol of modern Belgrade's urban dynamics.

Tips for Squares & Streets

- Best time to visit: Late afternoon into evening when locals promenade

- Knez Mihailova is completely pedestrian - perfect for leisurely strolling
- Reserve ahead for dinner in Skadarlija during peak season
- Free WiFi available in most public squares
- Watch for pickpockets in crowded areas

Neighborhoods & Districts

Each Belgrade neighborhood has its own distinct personality, from the historic charm of Dorćol to the alternative vibe of Savamala. Exploring these districts reveals the authentic character of the city beyond tourist attractions.

Top Pick

Savamala

Map

Belgrade's creative and alternative district undergoing rapid transformation. Once industrial warehouses now house art galleries, design studios, trendy bars, and the famous KC Grad cultural center. Street art adorns buildings, and abandoned structures have been converted into nightlife venues. The area hosts festivals, exhibitions, and open-air events. By day, explore vintage shops and craft breweries; by night, experience some of Belgrade's best underground music scene. A symbol of urban regeneration and youth culture.

Top Pick

Dorćol

Map

One of Belgrade's oldest and most charming neighborhoods, where Ottoman heritage meets Austro-Hungarian architecture. Narrow streets reveal hidden courtyards, antique shops, artisan workshops, and traditional bakeries. The area around Strahinjića Bana Street has become a gastronomic hotspot with innovative restaurants and cozy cafés. Visit the vibrant Bajloni Market for fresh produce and local atmosphere. Dorćol perfectly balances historic character with contemporary urban lifestyle.

Top Pick

Zemun

3-4 hours No Booking Needed

Map

Technically part of Belgrade but with distinct Austro-Hungarian character, Zemun feels like a separate town. Climb to Gardoš Tower (Millennium Tower) for panoramic views of the Danube. The riverside promenade is lined with fish restaurants serving fresh catches. Wander through narrow cobblestone streets past colorful houses and baroque churches. The Zemun Market is perfect for experiencing local life. This neighborhood offers a more relaxed, provincial atmosphere compared to central Belgrade.

Notable

Vračar

Map

An elegant residential neighborhood dominated by the Saint Sava Temple. Tree-lined streets feature beautiful early 20th-century architecture, upscale cafés, boutiques, and restaurants. The area around Cvetni Trg (Flower Square) and Njegoševa Street is particularly charming. Vračar attracts intellectuals, artists, and Belgrade's middle class. Parks like Karađorđev Park provide green spaces. It's perfect for experiencing authentic Belgrade lifestyle away from tourist crowds.

Tips for Neighborhoods & Districts

- Local transport: Each neighborhood is accessible by public transport or taxi
- Explore on foot to discover hidden gems and local life
- Visit neighborhood markets in the morning for authentic experiences
- Zemun is perfect for sunset river walks and fish dinners

- Savamala comes alive at night - daytime visits show a different character

Parks & Gardens

Belgrade's green spaces provide peaceful retreats from urban energy. From riverside parks to forested hills, these areas offer recreation, relaxation, and connection with nature within the city limits.

Must See

Kalemegdan Park

2-3 hours No Booking Needed

Map

The largest and most beautiful park in Belgrade, surrounding the historic fortress. This sprawling green space offers shaded walking paths, ancient trees, monuments, fountains, and spectacular views over the river confluence. The park includes a Zoo, Military Museum, and numerous sculptures. Popular with joggers, families, and lovers, it's the perfect place for picnics, leisurely strolls, or simply relaxing on a bench. The combination of nature, history, and culture makes it unique among European urban parks.

Must See

Ada Ciganlija

Half day to full day No Booking Needed

Map

Belgrade's 'summer playground' - a river island transformed into a recreational paradise. The artificial lake created by damming the Sava River offers 7 kilometers of beaches with clean water safe for swimming. Activities include kayaking, wakeboarding, zip-lining, bungee jumping, cycling, and beach volleyball. Surrounding forests provide shaded areas for barbecues and picnics. Numerous restaurants, cafés, and beach bars create a resort atmosphere. In summer, up to 100,000 visitors enjoy this 'Belgrade Sea' daily.

Notable

Topčider Park

Map

A historic park and forest covering 35 hectares in south Belgrade. Features the Topčider Palace, former residence of Prince Miloš Obrenović, now a museum. Ancient plane trees, some over 150 years old, create a majestic canopy. The Topčiderka River flows through the park, adding to its natural beauty. Popular for jogging, cycling, and family outings. The nearby Restaurant Topčider serves traditional Serbian cuisine. A perfect escape into nature while remaining close to the city center.

Optional

Botanical Garden

Map

A hidden oasis in the heart of Belgrade, this peaceful garden houses over 300 plant species from around the world. The first botanical garden was founded in 1874; today’s Jevremovac garden is at Takovska Street, not inside Kalemegdan, it features rare trees, medicinal herbs, and seasonal flowers. The Japanese garden section with its pond and bridge creates a zen atmosphere. The garden is particularly beautiful in spring when magnolias and cherries bloom. A tranquil spot perfect for nature lovers and those seeking quiet contemplation.

Tips for Parks & Gardens

- Summer essential: Ada Ciganlija can get very crowded on hot weekends - arrive early
- Rent bikes at Ada for exploring the 8km cycling path
- Bring picnic supplies - many parks allow barbecuing in designated areas
- Kalemegdan is beautiful at sunrise for photography
- Most parks are free entry and accessible year-round

Practical Information

Best Time to Visit Belgrade

Spring (April-May) and Autumn (September-October) are ideal for visiting Belgrade. Temperatures are pleasant (15-25°C), perfect for sightseeing and outdoor activities.

Seasonal Breakdown:

- Spring (April-June): Beautiful weather, blooming parks, outdoor café season begins. Temperatures 15-25°C. Perfect for walking tours and river cruises.

- Summer (July-August): Hot and often humid (25-35°C). Ada Ciganlija lake becomes the city's beach paradise. Famous EXIT music festival in nearby Novi Sad (July). River clubs (splavovi) are in full swing. Can be very crowded and expensive.
- Autumn (September-October): Mild temperatures, fewer tourists, cultural season begins with theatre and concerts. Wine harvest season - perfect for wine tours. Golden foliage in parks creates beautiful scenery.
- Winter (November-March): Cold (0-8°C), occasional snow. Christmas markets in December. Lower prices and fewer tourists. Museums and indoor attractions ideal. New Year's Eve celebrations are spectacular.

Tip: Avoid late July-August if you don't enjoy extreme heat. Belgrade becomes very hot and many locals escape to the coast.

Getting Around Belgrade

Public Transportation:

Belgrade has an extensive public transport network including buses, trams, and trolleybuses operated by GSP Beograd. The system is affordable but can be crowded during rush hours.

- City buses, trams and trolleybuses are free; no BusPlus card or ticket is required. Purchase at kiosks (90 RSD) and load with credit. Regular city public transport is free; these fares and passes are obsolete. Available at major stations and kiosks throughout the city.
- Operating Hours: Most lines run 4:00 AM - midnight. Night buses operate on major routes.
- Key Routes: Tram 2 does not currently serve Kalemegdan; check the current route map for service changes before travelling. Bus 72 goes to Ada Ciganlija. Bus 83 connects to Zemun.

Taxis & Ride-sharing:

- Official Taxis: Use licensed taxi companies (Pink Taxi, Beotaxi, Naxi). Base fare around 170 RSD, 65 RSD/km. Avoid unlicensed taxis at airport and train station.
- Ride-sharing: CarGo (local app) and Bolt are popular and often cheaper than taxis. Uber is not listed among the city’s transport options; use a licensed taxi operator or a locally available ride-hailing service.

✈ Airport Transfer

- A1 runs between Slavija Square and the airport; the city lists a 30–40-minute journey and a 300 RSD fare. Verify its current timetable before travel.
- Taxi: Approximately 1,800-2,500 RSD to city center (25-30 minutes). Pre-book or use official airport taxi stand.
- Private Transfer: Book ahead for fixed price (usually €25-35).

Walking & Cycling:

Belgrade's compact center is highly walkable. Major attractions are within 20-30 minutes on foot. Rent bikes at Ada Ciganlija or use bike-sharing systems like NextBike. Note: Be cautious of aggressive traffic and limited bike lanes in city center.

Important: Validate your BusPlus card at yellow readers when boarding. Inspectors frequently check tickets with hefty fines (2,500 RSD) for violations.

Shopping in Belgrade

What to Buy:

- Rakija: Traditional Serbian fruit brandy. Šljivovica (plum brandy) is the most authentic. Buy from specialty shops or bring back homemade versions from markets.
- Ajvar: Red pepper spread - a Serbian staple. Homemade varieties from markets are best.
- Serbian Wine: Local wines from Šumadija and Negotin regions. White Smederevka and red Prokupac are indigenous varieties.
- Traditional Crafts: Hand-embroidered textiles, opanak (traditional shoes), pottery, and woodwork.

- Serbian Honey & Propolis: High-quality honey products, especially from mountain regions.
- Turkish Coffee Sets: Beautiful džezva (coffee pots) and cups reflecting Ottoman influence.
- Books & Music: Yugoslav rock albums, contemporary Serbian literature translations.

Shopping Areas:

- Knez Mihailova Street: International brands, local boutiques, souvenir shops. Higher prices but convenient central location.
- Rajićeva Shopping Center: Underground mall near Republic Square with shops and cafés.
- Ušće Shopping Center: Largest mall in Belgrade with 140+ stores, cinema, food court. Located in New Belgrade.
- BIG Fashion Shopping Center: Another major mall in New Belgrade.
- Zeleni Venac Market: Traditional green market for fresh produce, cheese, honey, and local products.
- Kalenic Market: Authentic neighborhood market popular with locals.
- Antique Street (Njegoševa): Antique shops, vintage items, collectibles.

Bargaining Tips:

Bargaining is acceptable at outdoor markets and antique shops but not in regular stores or malls. Be respectful and friendly. Markets expect some negotiation for larger purchases or multiple items. Prices in supermarkets and shops are fixed.

Shop Hours: Most shops open 9/10 AM - 8/9 PM. Malls often open until 10 PM. Many small shops close on Sundays.

Festivals & Annual Events

Major Festivals:

- Belgrade Beer Fest (August): One of Europe's largest beer festivals. Free entry, 10+ days of beer, music, and food on the Ušće riverbank. Over 500,000 visitors annually.
- BELEF - Belgrade Summer Festival (July-August): International arts festival featuring theatre, music, dance, and visual arts across city venues.
- Belgrade Jazz Festival (October): Historic jazz festival since 1971, attracting international performers.
- Guitar Art Festival (March): International guitar festival with classical and contemporary performances.
- Belgrade Dance Festival (April-May): Contemporary dance and choreography from around the world.
- BITEF - Belgrade International Theatre Festival (September): Prestigious theatre festival since 1967, showcasing experimental and avant-garde performances.
- Belgrade International Film Festival - FEST (February-March): Serbia's oldest film festival celebrating cinema from around the world.
- Belgrade Pride (September): LGBTQ+ pride celebration and parade promoting equality and visibility.

National Holidays & Celebrations:

- New Year's Eve (December 31): Massive celebrations in Republic Square with concerts and fireworks. Belgrade parties continue for days.
- Orthodox Christmas (January 7): Religious celebrations, special church services, traditional meals.
- Orthodox New Year (January 13-14): Additional New Year celebration following the Julian calendar.
- Serbian Statehood Day (February 15): National holiday commemorating Serbian history.
- Easter (varies): Orthodox Easter celebrated with special services, egg painting, and family feasts. Often different date from Catholic/Protestant Easter.
- Labor Day (May 1-2): Two-day holiday with picnics, concerts, and outdoor activities.

Festival Tip: Book accommodation well in advance during major festivals. Prices increase and availability decreases significantly.

Best Photography & Instagram Spots

Iconic Views:

- Kalemegdan Fortress - River Confluence Viewpoint: The absolute best view in Belgrade. Capture the meeting of Sava and Danube rivers with the Victor Monument in frame. Best time: Golden hour (sunset) for dramatic lighting.
- Gardoš Tower, Zemun: 360-degree panoramic views of Belgrade skyline, Danube River, and surrounding areas. Best time: Late afternoon or blue hour.
- Branko's Bridge: Capture the bridge spanning the Sava with Belgrade skyline in background. Best time: Dusk for lights reflecting on water.
- Genex Tower (Western City Gate): Brutalist architecture masterpiece perfect for urban photography. Best time: Midday for strong shadows, or golden hour for warm tones.

Architectural Photography:

- Saint Sava Temple: Photograph the massive white marble exterior from Karađorđev Park. Interior mosaics are breathtaking. Best time: Early morning for fewer crowds, or evening when illuminated.
- Skadarlija Street: Cobblestones, vintage street lamps, colorful facades. Classic Belgrade charm. Best time: Evening when restaurants light up and street musicians perform.
- Knez Mihailova Street: Pedestrian boulevard with beautiful 19th-century architecture. Best time: Late afternoon or evening with bustling crowds.
- Belgrade Waterfront: Modern architecture, Sava promenade, and the controversial Belgrade Tower. Best time: Blue hour for reflections.

Street Art & Alternative Spots:

- Savamala Neighborhood: Colorful murals, graffiti art, and urban decay. Raw Belgrade energy. Best time: Daytime for colors, or night for edgy atmosphere.
- Cetinjska Street: Underground street art gallery with constantly changing murals.
- Belgrade's Underpasses: Many feature striking street art. Check tunnels near Zeleni Venac.

Nature & Atmospheric Shots:

- Ada Ciganlija at Sunset: Lake, beaches, and silhouettes of people enjoying summer. Best time: Golden hour with sun setting over the water.
- Topčider Park: Ancient plane trees create cathedral-like canopy. Ethereal lighting through leaves. Best time: Morning with sunlight filtering through fog.
- Danube River Embankment: Long exposure shots of river traffic and bridges. Best time: Blue hour or night.

Hidden Gems:

- Kosančićev Venac: Charming historic street with preserved 19th-century houses and cafés overlooking the Sava.
- ?Kafana: Question Mark Tavern - Belgrade's oldest restaurant (1823) with authentic interior and vintage atmosphere.
- Belgrade Fortress Tunnels: Atmospheric underground corridors (accessible during guided tours).

Photography Tips: Early morning and golden hour provide best natural light. Belgrade is photogenic year-round but spring (blossoms) and autumn (golden leaves) add extra color. Always ask permission before photographing people. Drone flying requires permits near government buildings and military sites.

Electricity & Adapters

Voltage: 230V

Frequency: 50Hz

Plug Types: Type C (European two-pin) and Type F (European two-pin with ground clips, also known as 'Schuko')

Do You Need an Adapter?

- European travelers: No adapter needed - same plugs used throughout Europe.
- UK travelers: Yes - bring a UK to EU adapter (Type G to Type C/F).
- US/Canada travelers: Yes - bring a US to EU adapter. Your devices also need to support 230V (check device labels).
- Australia/New Zealand travelers: Yes - bring Type I to Type C/F adapter.

Tip: Most modern electronics (phones, laptops, cameras) have built-in voltage converters and work with 110-240V. Check your device labels - if it says '110-240V', you only need a plug adapter. If it only says '110V', you'll need both an adapter and voltage converter.

Universal travel adapters are widely available in Belgrade at electronics stores and some hotels, but bring your own for peace of mind. Many hotels provide adapters at reception upon request.

Serbian Cuisine & Dining

Must-Try Dishes:

- Ćevapi: Grilled minced meat sausages (beef, pork, or lamb) served in flatbread (lepinja) with onions, kajmak (cream cheese), and ajvar. The quintessential Serbian street food.
- Pljeskavica: Serbian-style burger made from mixed ground meats, often stuffed with cheese (pljeskavica sa sirom). Huge and delicious.
- Sarma: Cabbage rolls stuffed with minced meat and rice, slowly cooked. Traditional winter dish.
- Ajvar: Roasted red pepper spread - ranges from mild to spicy. Eaten with bread, meat, or cheese.
- Kajmak: Creamy dairy product similar to clotted cream. Spread on bread or served with meat dishes.
- Prebranac: Baked beans with onions and paprika. Comfort food at its best.
- Karađorđeva šnicla: Rolled veal or pork schnitzel stuffed with kajmak, breaded and fried. Named after Serbian leader Karađorđe.
- Gibanica: Layered cheese pie made with phyllo dough. Sweet or savory versions available.
- Rakija: Fruit brandy (usually plum - šljivovica) - the national drink. Often served as welcome drink.
- Serbian Salad (Srpska Salata): Fresh tomatoes, cucumbers, onions, peppers with oil and vinegar.

Where to Eat:

- Kafanas: Traditional Serbian restaurants with authentic food, live music, and convivial atmosphere. Try: Tri Šešira (Skadarlija), Dva Jelena, ? Kafana (Question Mark).
- Fast Food: Try local fast-food chains like Bucko, Hot & Cold, or street vendors for affordable ćevapi and pljeskavica.
- Modern Restaurants: Savamala and Dorćol neighborhoods offer contemporary takes on Serbian cuisine and international options.
- Fish Restaurants: Zemun riverside is famous for fresh Danube fish. Try riblji paprikaš (fish stew).
- Bakeries (Pekara): Found everywhere. Try burek (flaky pastry with meat, cheese, or spinach), perfect for breakfast or snack.

Dining Tips:

- Tipping: 10% is standard for good service. Round up the bill or leave cash on table.
- Meal Times: Lunch (14:00-16:00) is the main meal. Dinner usually starts after 20:00. Restaurants stay open late.
- Prices: Belgrade is affordable. Expect 500-1000 RSD for casual meals, 1500-3000 RSD for mid-range restaurants.
- Portions: Serbian portions are generous. Don't over-order!
- Reservations: Recommended for popular kafanas, especially Skadarlija restaurants on weekends.
- Water: Tap water is safe to drink. Restaurants serve bottled water unless you specifically ask for tap.

Vegetarian Note: Serbian cuisine is meat-heavy, but you'll find pasulj (bean soup), gibanica (cheese pie), ajvar, salads, and grilled vegetables. Ethnic restaurants (Indian, Asian, Italian) offer more vegetarian options.
